

Lecturer

Purpose

This diverse role involves teaching agricultural skills to full time students and being a mentor to a smaller group of students. I love the variety in my work and being able to pass on the skills and knowledge I've gained in industry to the next generation of agricultural professionals.

Other roles you have had?

I have been a jackaroo on cattle and sheep properties before becoming overseer on a large mixed farming property. I also did a lot of fencing before returning to Tocal as a dairy assistant and then Dairy Manager and decided to pursue my interest in agricultural education

Personal attributes that are useful in this role?

- excellent teamwork, communication, organisational and mentoring skills
- ability to connect with young people

Quote

“There are great experiences and opportunities available to anyone who pursues a career in Agriculture. Once in agriculture, doors will open!”
